

ADVANCE BENNING
ADMISSION PRICE

Will Be $2 for Men and $1 for Women.

HAVE TO MEET EXPENSES

Bookmakers' Contributions Were Big Help—Gossip of Horses and Turf-men at Coming Meeting.

Secretary Sim Walton, of the Benning track, has announced that the admission fee at the coming fall meeting will be raised from $1.50 to $2 for men and from 50 cents to $1 for women. In explaining this action Mr. Walton said: "The fact that the Jockey Club has refused to accept any further contributions from the bookmakers, either directly or indirectly, made it imperative to raise the price of admission in order to meet the expenses of the meetings. The price for grand stand tickets was raised $1 at the metropolitan tracks, but here we are making the increase only 50 cents."

"It will take an awful good horse to win a race here this fall," said E. H. Hanna, the popular trainer for the Columbia Stable. "From the class of horses that are coming here it looks like it will take a stake horse to win a selling race."

Artful Klamesha (the record breaker at a mile), Santa Catalina, Pirate Polly, Bohemia, Handara, are some of the crack three-year-olds that will be at Benning; while the two-year-olds of this sex will be represented by Tiptoe, winner of White Plains Handicap last Saturday, Produce Stakes and other races; Tangle, Vi-O, Brookdale Nymph, Perverse, Lady Navarre, Lotus, and many others. It looks like the fillies will out a wide swath this autumn.

It has been said that the mighty Roseben, probably the greatest weight-carrying sprinter this country has ever seen, has been retired for the season. Two years ago the seating capacity of the stadium was 35,000, and 1,500 more seats are planned for this year's game.

The Exeter football squad is nearly as heavy as Yale's. Twelve men weigh over 180 pounds. One of the candidates, Conroy, no relation to the Princeton captain, weighs 254 pounds. Hart, one of the backs, weighs 190.

Lafayette is liable to prove a stumbling block for Princeton next Saturday. Captain Conroy, of the Princeton team, did not play last Saturday. He is said to be down too fine.

Yale's total of yards gained against Holy Cross by running the ball was 232 to 23 by the visitors.

Following the defeat of West Point on Saturday by the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, a Northern critic arises to state: "The Southerners will from now on have to be considered as candidates for positions on All-America teams by the manner in which they played on Saturday."

What looked like an almost sure winner at Pennsylvania is fast dwindling away. Now Hor, the big freshman, who failed to matriculate at Cornell, found the entrance "exams" too strong a barrier at Penn also and skipped away to Syracuse.

The return of Dan Knowlton will help out the tackle situation at Harvard.

Famous Riders for Coming Baltimore Races.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—The stakes to be run off at the coming meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club have closed with a list of nominations that far exceed the expectations of those that have been looking after the details of preparation. The future of the organization is now assured and the lovers of racing in Baltimore will be furnished some sport on their own territory that heretofore they have been compelled to go elsewhere to find.

The full list of entries will be made public in a few days and then will come the chance to see how very flattering has been the response from the horsemen.

The coming of the good horses will bring a splendid delegation of riders. Some of the newcomers will be Miller, who rates as one of the very best of the lightweights in the country; Crimmins, who headed the list of riders at Providence; Romanelli, a boy of established reputation the country over; J. Johnson, who was the star among the little boys at Benning's last spring; Buchanan, who the Westerners insist is the best rider in their part of the country, and a host of others that can be relied on to bring contests of the very highest order.

The fact that Lotus Eater, the winner of the Triumph Stakes at Brighton Beach, the only mile fixture for two-year-olds in the East, will be on the ground, has induced the management to try and bring about a special feature. This colt will be A. H. & D. H. Morris' representative in the Crescent City Derby next spring and one of the contestants he will meet will be Disobedient, one of the best of the two-year-olds now racing. The latter is to come to Pimlico, and his owner, John Duffy, is anxious to meet Lotus Eater. If the consent of Mr. Morris and his trainer can be obtained, Secretary Riggs will put on a special race for the pair. Such a match would be a great attraction.

G. L. Richards, owner of the horses that race in the name of the Boston Stable, some time ago announced that as he is compelled to spend the best part of the time in Europe, he would sell his string. His trainer, Frank Lightfoot, is trying to get him to change his mind; in fact, he has all but secured the needed consent to bring the stable here. "This means that Pimlico will have a chance to see a steeplechase in the hands of the other races in which he will be eligible. Lightfoot won the Crescent City Derby in 1904, and among those he will find here to oppose him will be Right Royal, who won the same race last spring."

Personal Comment on Affairs in the World of Sport

George Foster Sanford, formerly Columbia's football coach and now at Yale, yesterday started to drill Amherst's line-men for their game with Columbia next Saturday.

The Harvard management has ordered 40,000 tickets for the Yale game. Two years ago the seating capacity of the stadium was 35,000, and 1,500 more seats are planned for this year's game.

The Exeter football squad is nearly as heavy as Yale's. Twelve men weigh over 180 pounds. One of the candidates, Conroy, no relation to the Princeton captain, weighs 254 pounds. Hart, one of the backs, weighs 190.

Lafayette is liable to prove a stumbling block for Princeton next Saturday.

Captain Conroy, of the Princeton team, did not play last Saturday. He is said to be down too fine.

Yale's total of yards gained against Holy Cross by running the ball was 232 to 23 by the visitors.

Following the defeat of West Point on Saturday by the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, a Northern critic arises to state: "The Southerners will from now on have to be considered as candidates for positions on All-America teams by the manner in which they played on Saturday."

What looked like an almost sure winner at Pennsylvania is fast dwindling away. Now Hor, the big freshman, who failed to matriculate at Cornell, found the entrance "exams" too strong a barrier at Penn also and skipped away to Syracuse.

The return of Dan Knowlton will help out the tackle situation at Harvard.

Colgate has the best team it has had in years. The eleven has made a great showing against Cornell and Dartmouth and at the end of the season is likely to stand near the top among the smaller colleges.

In its criticism of the Curlew-Virginia game the Richmond Journal says: "The trouble with Virginia is that too many men have been in the practice line. What Coach Cole wants to do is to let his regular team together and put them through a course of training to place them in some sort of shape."

"As Virginia now stands, North Carolina possibly has them beat. The team has the material, but it is not together."

That game at Georgetown field on November 11 may not be so one-sided after all.

BOXING

Charley McKeever made his first appearance in a Philadelphia ring for over a year when he boxed a draw with Billy Burke in the windup at the Washington Sporting Club last night. Both men mixed it up from the start and every round was punctuated by rapid milling. In the early rounds Burke had the advantage, but McKeever finished especially strong in the fifth and sixth and evened up Burke's advantage. In the semi-windup Tony Bender knocked out Tom O'Hara in two rounds.

Tommy Mowatt, the 130-pound fighter, of Chicago, has left the Windy City for San Francisco, where he is to meet "Fighting Dick" Hyland in a twenty-round bout at Woodward's Pavilion on the night of October 31.

Jack Williams and Billy Burke are to clash in the star act for six rounds at catch weights on Thursday night before the Broadway Athletic Club, of Philadelphia.

Jack Butler, of Brooklyn, and Jabber (Tom) Carey, of New York, both members of the Hudson River Athletic Club, will clash in the star bout at the club's show on Friday night for three rounds at catch weights. The meeting will settle club championship in the heavy-weight class.

The Lenox Athletic Club, of Manassas, Pa., will reopen on next Thursday night. A good, strong card for a starter will be put on. Charley Cannon and Abe Herman will clash in the star act of the night for six rounds at catch weights.

Tommy Ryan, who calls himself the middleweight champion, has written Tom McCarney, matchmaker of the Pacific Coast Athletic Club of Los Angeles, asking for a match with some good middleweight. McCarney wired Ryan to come to Los Angeles and he would match him with the winner of the Jack Sullivan-Tommy Burns go which is down for tonight.

If condition counts for anything, Young Corbett, the ex-featherweight champion, will be in tiptop shape on Monday night when he faces Young Ernie, the featherweight champion of Pennsylvania, for six rounds at the Washington Sporting Club, of Philadelphia. Corbett is training at Fairmount Inn, Philadelphia, and is in good condition now.

Mike Moran and Andy Smith, good lightweight of New York, are to clash for fifteen rounds at 133 pounds, weigh in at the ring side, tonight before a private club up the State for a purse and side bet of $100. Moran and Smith have been in hard training for the past three weeks, and each is confident of victory.

Willie Fitzgerald will in all probability get on a return battle with Eddie Hanlon. Fitzgerald recently knocked out Jack Clifford, the California lightweight, in the eighth round of what was to have been a twenty-round go, at Grass Valley, California. Fitzgerald showed so well in that fight that the matchmakers of the Pacific Coast Athletic Club of Los Angeles promptly offered him a return match with Hanlon and he accepted.

QUAKERS PREPARE FOR GEORGETOWN

Swarthmore's Hard Work for Saturday's Game.

SCRUBS ARE BADLY NEEDED

Scarcely Two Full Elevens Are Out.
No Injuries in George Washington Contest.

SWARTHMORE, Pa., Oct. 17.—Coach George Brooke has started the final preparation of the Swarthmore team for next Saturday's game with Georgetown at Washington.

For the past week fewer and fewer men have reported to Coach Brooke each night, until now it is almost impossible to get enough men on the field to make up two elevens.

Nearly all of the men on the scrub who were capable of giving the varsity a good tussle have stopped coming out, and now when the first team lines up for scrimmage it faces a team that is in the prep school class. Every effort is being made to get a decent scrub on the field, as the varsity has several hard games before it, and unless hard scrimmaging work is indulged in the team will be severely handicapped.

Small Cripple List.

The team came out of the game with Georgetown without any more cripples. The present list of cripples is growing smaller, Wightman, Kreuger, and Perkins being the only varsity men out of the game.

The practice yesterday was slow. The team ran through signals for over an hour, and then lined up against the scrub. The scrub was so weak, however, that only end and truck plays were tried. The feature of the practice was the fierce tackling of Miller, who played on the scrub. Time and again Miller stopped plays directed against him, sometimes tackling the runner, and at other times the line.

Central and Eastern
PLAY THIS AFTERNOON

Central meets Eastern this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, at National Park, in the third game of the series for the local high school championship.

These two teams are considered especially strong this season, and a good game should result.

POSTOFFICE COPPED
TWO FROM BUREAU

After winning two good games from Postoffice in the Departmental League last night at the Palace Alleys, the Bureau dropped the third game of the set.

Fredrick, Helmerichs and Hess were the highest individuals, each passing the double century mark.

In the Government Printing Office League, Index won the first and third games from the Pressmen. McCarthy, with 214, was high man, two pins better than Atkinson.

The Assessors won two games from the Harrison & Browning quint in the Real Estate League. Barr and Brosnan, of the winners, were the 200 men.
